SPEAKER

Simon Buckmaster, Publisher, IOP Publishing

Simon Buckmaster is a Publisher with nine years' experience in academic publishing. Simon works closely with The Japan Society of Applied Physics and The Japan Society of Fluid Mechanics, as well as other international societies, to publish their journals. Simon's talk will discuss scientific publishing in Japan, give tips for writing your research paper, advice on how to choose a journal, an explanation of what to expect from peer review, and an overview of developments in publishing, such as open access, with time at the end for a Q&A session.
